The State University of New York

“To Learn — To Search — To Serve”

The 64 geographically dispersed campuses of the State University of New York (SUNY) bring educational opportunity within commuting distance of virtually all New Yorkers and comprise the nation’s largest comprehensive system of public higher education. When founded in 1948, SUNY consolidated 29 state-operated but unaffiliated institutions whose varied histories of service dated as far back as 1816.

SUNY’s impact is felt educationally, culturally and economically the length and breadth of the state. It continues to fulfill its mission by providing access to a high-quality education for hundreds of thousands of individuals.

SUNY — The Place to Go, to Go Places in Life

SUNY’s dedication to quality and range of programs attracts top students from New York state, across the nation, and around the world. With more than 427,000 students from every New York state county, every U.S. state, and more than 160 foreign countries, SUNY includes students who continue to achieve at every educational level. More than 386,000 students are currently pursuing bachelor’s or associate’s degrees while another 40,500 are working toward advanced degrees within the nearly 7,700 courses of study offered by the university. SAT scores of SUNY students continue to rise, averaging 1202 at university centers and 1142 at all state-operated campuses – 11 percent above the national average. Between 1999 and 2004, every SUNY state-operated campus saw gains in average SAT scores.

STUDENT DIVERSITY

The SUNY student body is as diverse as New York state’s citizens. More than half of SUNY students are women. Minority enrollment is at an all-time high at more than 85,000 students (nearly 20 percent). Approximately 8 percent of SUNY students are Black/Non-Hispanic, 6.2 percent are Hispanic, 4.5 percent are Asian/Pacific Islander, and 0.5 percent Native American. SUNY’s reputation for excellence also draws 15,400 international students from around the world.

CAMPUSES

SUNY institutions include everything from world-renowned community colleges such as the Fashion Institute of Technology, to first-rate graduate schools that include the nation’s top veterinary school. The system’s highly regarded doctoral degree granting universities boast top research programs and attract experts in a variety of fields.

SUNY employs more than 81,000 faculty and staff. Among our faculty are Nobel laureates, Dirac and Fields medal winners, National Medal of Science Laureates, and members of the National Academies of Science, Engineering and Medicine. Also among the SUNY faculty are winners of the Pulitzer Prize, MacArthur Foundation “Genius Grants” and Grammy, Emmy and Tony awards. SUNY highly values the work the faculty does in the classroom; 63 percent of SUNY full-time faculty teaches 75 percent of total credit hours at the state-operated campuses.

SUNY is also continually improving its online learning resources for students who want to take courses from their own home or apartment. Since the SUNY Learning Network’s inception in 1995, annual online course offerings have grown from 8 to more than 3,400. Complete online degree programs have gone from 0 to more than 60, and online course enrollments have risen from 199 to 102,223.

GRADUATION RATES AND DEGREES GRANTED

SUNY graduation rates exceed the national average for all schools and far surpass the national average for public universities. In 2006, the six-year graduation rate for full-time, first-time students was 59.6 percent for SUNY, compared to 45 percent among public universities and 51.5 percent among privates.

First-year student retention rates also continue to rise, outpacing the nation. SUNY doctoral campuses retain 88 percent of freshmen, compared with 80 percent nationally; four-year schools retain 81 percent, compared to 74 percent nationally; and community colleges retain 63 percent, compared to 57 percent nationally.

SUNY students are also staying and graduating, preparing for advanced study or to enter the work force. Nearly 80,600 degrees were awarded to SUNY students in 2006-07, the largest number of degrees ever. Of these, just over 67,000 were earned by undergraduates and 13,400 by graduate students.

RESEARCH AND ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

SUNY research contributions are helping to solve many of today’s most urgent problems. At the same time, contracts and grants received by University faculty directly benefit the economic development of the regions where they are located. SUNY researchers pioneered nuclear magnetic resonance imaging and the supermarket bar code scanner, introduced time-lapse photography of forestry subject, isolated the bacteria that causes Lyme disease, and developed the first implantable heart pacemaker. Other University researchers continue important studies in such wide-ranging areas as breast cancer, immunology, marine biology, sickle cell anemia, and robotics, and make hundreds of other contributions, inventions, and innovations for the benefit of society.

The University’s economic development services programs provide research, training and technical assistance to the state’s business and industrial community through business and industry centers, the New York State Small Business Development Center, the Strategic Partnership for Industrial Resurgence, rural services institutes, the Trade Adjustment Assistance Center, technical assistance centers, small business institutes, centers for advanced technology, and international development. For every state dollar received, SUNY generates $8 in total spending in New York state.

ALUMNI

It is also well known around the world that SUNY produces leaders including lawyers, entertainers, teachers and elected officials. Fashion designer Calvin Klein, Actor Billy Crystal, world-renowned soprano Renee Fleming, CNN anchor Wolf Blitzer, Stanford University president John Hennessey, six members of Congress and 43 New York state legislators are all SUNY alumni. Some other notable alumni include Dawn Fratangelo (Plattsburgh, '82), NBC News "Dateline"; Tom Clarke (Albany, '73), President, Nike; Al Roker (Oswego, '76), weather forecaster, NBC's "Today Show"; and Scott Kelly (Maritime, '87), NASA Astronaut/Space Shuttle Commander.

As a public university system, SUNY has a special responsibility to make its rich and varied resources accessible to all. By focusing its educational system on the needs of the state, the University becomes a valuable resource for meeting those needs for today and tomorrow. The State University believes efficiencies in instructional delivery and administrative transactions can be achieved while preserving affordable, quality higher education to its students.

Affirmative Action Policy

SUNY Plattsburgh, in recognition of its educational mission, its social concern, its responsibility for the personal development of individuals, and its concern for the rights of individuals, established a college policy of Equal Education and Employment Opportunity and Affirmative Action. It is the policy of this college to provide equal opportunity in education and employment for all qualified persons; to prohibit illegal discrimination based on age, race, religion, color, national origin, sex, marital or veteran status, or physical or mental handicapping condition; and to promote the full realization of equal education and employment opportunity through a positive and continuing program of affirmative action for the college as a whole and for each constituent unit. It is the intent of the college to comply with the spirit of federal and state regulations relating to the affirmative action obligations toward all protected classes, i.e., veterans and women, not only because the regulations are law, but also because they prescribe morally just actions.

Consistent with SUNY Board of Trustees' policy, the college expects that all judgments about and actions toward students and employees will be based on their qualifications, abilities and performance. Attitudes, practices, and preferences of individuals that are essentially personal in nature, such as private expression or sexual orientation, are unrelated to performance and provide no basis for judgment. This policy governs all college educational and employment policies, practices and actions, including, but not limited to, recruitment, appointment, enrollment, rate of pay or other compensation, advancement, upgrading, promotion, financial aid, demotion, renewal, non-renewal, termination, dismissal, transfer, layoff, leave, training, employees' benefits, grading and program access. This policy requires each contractor, supplier, union, public agency, or other cooperative agent to support this policy by complying with all applicable state and federal equal employment opportunity laws and regulations.

Responsibility and authority for the dissemination and implementation of this policy lies ultimately with the president of the college with assistance from the affirmative action officer and the Affirmative Action Advisory Committee, which shall consist of representatives from the campus faculty, staff and students. Practically, the responsibility and authority to act affirmatively to provide equality of opportunity in education and employment lies with all who are in decision-making positions within the college. It is the intent of the college to commit appropriate resources and to create a supportive atmosphere for the practical responsibility and authority to be exercised.
